

I really appreciate xm radio while I'm driving and love that they provide the traffic and weather channels. And I don't think FCC should stop xm from providing their programs since I paying for the service I want and need.